

Closing and Arrival of the Mails at the Louisville Postoffice.

Eastern, Western and Northern close at 12:00 P. M., and arrive at 12:00 P. M.
Southern close at 1:00 P. M., and arrive at 1:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 2:00 P. M., and arrive at 2:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 3:00 P. M., and arrive at 3:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 4:00 P. M., and arrive at 4:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 5:00 P. M., and arrive at 5:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 6:00 P. M., and arrive at 6:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 7:00 P. M., and arrive at 7:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 8:00 P. M., and arrive at 8:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 9:00 P. M., and arrive at 9:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 10:00 P. M., and arrive at 10:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 11:00 P. M., and arrive at 11:00 P. M.
St. Louis close at 12:00 P. M., and arrive at 12:00 P. M.

CITY NEWS.

For Sale—Several lots of woolen yarn and a variety of other necessary in a well-appointed job office. Also, a No. 1. Hughes card cutter, nearly new and in good order. Apply at this office.

R. H. Singleton, Esq., is our exclusive agent in Louisville, Tenn., for the sale of the Daily Democrat, wholesale and retail. News boys and the public supplied at his store, under the Western House, College street.

Mr. C. O. Smith is our agent at Versailles, Ky. Persons desiring to subscribe will please call on him.

Military Directory.

General Gilbert's Headquarters—Seventh street, between Chestnut and Broadway, south side.
Major General Brainerd, commanding United States forces in Kentucky—Office south side of Walnut, between Fourth and Fifth streets.
Major General, commanding post-office on Center street, between Jefferson and Green.
Quartermaster's Office—Green street, two doors above Third.
Capt. H. C. Reynolds, Commissary of Subsistence—Office on Second street, below Call House.
J. F. Read, Assistant Medical Director—Office on Green street, Quartermaster's building.
Lieutenant E. Allen, Ordnance Officer—Seventh and Ninth streets.
Post Commissary, under charge of Mr. James C. Payne, Main street, between First and Second.
Capt. W. F. Harris, Assistant Quartermaster (in charge of transportation)—Office on Main street, between First and Second.
Captain H. B. military storekeeper—Main street, between First and Second.
Formerly an Office—corner of Third and Walnut.

The General Hospitals.

Hospital No. 1—Corner of Ninth street and Broadway.
Hospital No. 2—Corner of Eighth and Green streets.
Hospital No. 3—Third street, between Walnut and Chestnut.
Hospital No. 4—Corner of Fifteenth and Main streets.
Hospital No. 5—Corner of Seventh and Main streets.
Hospital No. 6—Corner of Center and Green streets.
Hospital for smallpox—On Broadway road, near Cave Hill Cemetery.

AN OUTRAGE.—Wednesday night, about 8 o'clock, a young man named Charles Whetstein, whose father lives on the Jefferson town-pike, was on his way home; he was ordered to halt by a squad of men, who took his pass away from him and tore it up. They also took three dollars and a pistol from him, telling him to charge it to John Morgan. They let him come back to the city, and afterwards stopped a milk-man and robbed him of what money he had, and let him pass. Some United States soldiers went out to investigate the matter, but the rascals had made good their escape. It was not known whether they were United States men or not. We hope that such proceedings will be immediately stopped, and the highwaymen severely punished.

THE MECHANICS AND EMPLOYEES at the locomotive works of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, will for the present, be out of employment. As there is little doing on the road, business at the works will be suspended temporarily. This gallant and efficient corps have devoted a portion of the afternoon to drilling. They are commanded by Albert Fink, Esq., architect and superintendent of the mechanical department of the road. We understand that they make a battalion of three companies, numbering from eighty to one hundred men each.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Thursday, Sept. 18. Com'd by Dan. Shay by Phil. Donahue, peace warrant; each party was required to give bail in $200 dollars to keep the peace towards each other for six months. Com'd by Wash Lewis, f. m. c. motion for new trial overruled. Ordered by Court that Honora Laveille be brought in from the workhouse to be bailed.

A contraband was being escorted to the fortifications yesterday by a soldier; he was met by another "gentleman on color." "Hello, like, what you gwine with dat guard?" "See gwine out to enforce de army?" "Is dat so?" "Yes I'm gwine to de fortifications to dig trenches."

GENERAL COUNCIL.—The General Council were in session last evening, but no business of any importance was transacted, beyond the election of back tax collectors and interpreter to the city court. Mr. Elliott was elected collector in the Eastern District, and Mr. Kaye, sr., in the Western. Mr. Geo. Jones was re-elected interpreter to the city court.

COURT OF APPEALS.—The summer term of the Court of Appeals adjourned to convene on the 18th of September, 1862. Judge Ballitt was the only judge present yesterday, so there will be no court until the regular winter term, which will commence on the first Monday in December next.

GENERAL NELSON.—Maj. General Nelson, who has nearly recovered from the wound received at Richmond, arrived in the city yesterday, and will assume command of all the forces in this vicinity.

GOOD PRICES.—At the Boone tobacco warehouse, yesterday, Mr. L. S. Anderson, manufacturer of this city, bought two hogheads of tobacco at $25.75 and $30 per hundred.

DAN RICKLES PROMOTED.—The New York Evening Post says: "We hear that Gen. Sickles has been promoted to the command of a division, and will leave at once for Washington to assume his new command."

George H. Bentley, Esq., the agent of the Campbell Minstrels, is now in our city, effecting the preliminary arrangements for a series of concerts next week.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Mr. Nune-macher, of Adams Express, for St. Louis papers of yesterday.

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.—Cincinnati is still unsafe!

Munfordville.

Among the thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Munfordville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command there, and we shall not believe to the contrary till we have a certainty on which to build.

But, surrendered or not, there is no necessity for any alarm—anxiety we cannot feel feeling, but nothing like alarm.

LATER.—It will be seen by dispatches from Indianapolis, that Adjutant E. Slawson, of the 17th Indiana Regiment, who escaped from Munfordville immediately after the surrender, has arrived in that city, and we presume there is no longer any doubt that the rebels did capture the garrison.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—We learn from private watchman E. D. Wyatt, that a gang of ten or twelve boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years, have a rendezvous on Third street, between Main and the river, in the rear of some of the stores, where they seem to sleep. He found ten of the gang last night, but by the time he had climbed a fence, they had all but three, escaped over another fence. They had two or three bottles of whisky, one of which they had emptied. He found a lot of pictures from some daguerian gallery. The three he arrested and put in jail. It is high time the House of Refuge was in operation, as the jail is no place for such offenders.

THEATRE.—Miss Mary Provost had another very fine house last night, to witness and enjoy her rendition of the character of Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons. To render this character so as to be enjoyable to an experienced audience requires super-excellence in the actress, and to give it so as to enchain the audience argues a degree of ability very seldom possessed. Miss Provost's Pauline was a very charming personification, true to the author's conception, true to nature, full of beauty and excellence.

This evening she will take a benefit. The bill she offers is a very fine one: The Conspiracy, or a Wife's Trials, a Parisian sensation drama, in which she will appear as Lucie D'Arville—and the afterpiece of Jenny Lind.

THE BLACK BRIGADE.—The Provost Guard had an abundance of work to do yesterday, in gathering up the negroes to work on the intrenchments. We learn that they picked up seven hundred and marched them off to their labors. Last night two hundred of them, believed to be runaway negroes, were looked up in the quarters at the corner of Fifth and Green, the old military Prison, and the remainder, five hundred, were permitted to go to their homes for the night, to report themselves on duty again this morning.

ENGLAND IS putting forth gigantic efforts to build and equip her new navy of iron-clads. The rapid strides of the French and the remarkable combats of iron vessels in American waters have stirred the admiralty from its sloth, and infused new vigor into the naval government. Our last foreign advice brings intelligence of the trial trip of the Black Prince, and intimations of new movements in the British dockyards, with the commencement of new experiments with iron plates, and new programmes for the construction of formidable ships.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident happened last evening, to the train coming in from Elizabethtown, by which several persons were severely injured, but no lives were lost. When about three miles out from the city, two or three of the cars in the middle of the train were in some unaccountable manner crushed or badly broken, and many of the passengers in those cars were severely hurt, though we believe none of them dangerously. We did not learn any names.

IN some mysterious manner the Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent learns that the wound of Major General B. R. Lee is more serious than was at first supposed, both hands having been badly lacerated, so that they are useless to him now. He was sitting on horseback, reading both hands on the pomel of his saddle, when a bullet passed partially through both of them. He is represented as having both hands well bandaged up, and greatly worried at not being able to manipulate his pen and pencil.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—Within the past week cotton has advanced fully eight cents per pound. The last improvement, caused by the Norwegian's advice on Monday of last week, was two and three cents, the quotations in New York for middling upland being fifty-six cents. This is the highest price which has been paid at any time within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

LADIES are turning out the best rifle-shots. At a recent rifle match in England, six women of high social position were competitors for the "Bright Eye Sweepstakes," by invitation of Lord Fielding and the officers of the Flintshire battalion. A Mrs. Ashwin made a center shot and carried off the prize.

THE MECHANICS AND ENGINEERS of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, turned out in their strength, yesterday, to work upon the intrenchments, near the city. They will be there again to-day, and call upon all members of the company to join them, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Captain, JOHN F. DUNN.

A RETURN.—"Malakoff," writing from Paris to the New York Times, hints that the saute ardente between France and England is likely to be ruptured, on account of the antagonistic attitude of England in Italy and at Constantinople.

Negroes Now in Nashville.

AMONG THE thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Nashville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command there, and we shall not believe to the contrary till we have a certainty on which to build.

But, surrendered or not, there is no necessity for any alarm—anxiety we cannot feel feeling, but nothing like alarm.

LATER.—It will be seen by dispatches from Indianapolis, that Adjutant E. Slawson, of the 17th Indiana Regiment, who escaped from Munfordville immediately after the surrender, has arrived in that city, and we presume there is no longer any doubt that the rebels did capture the garrison.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—We learn from private watchman E. D. Wyatt, that a gang of ten or twelve boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years, have a rendezvous on Third street, between Main and the river, in the rear of some of the stores, where they seem to sleep. He found ten of the gang last night, but by the time he had climbed a fence, they had all but three, escaped over another fence. They had two or three bottles of whisky, one of which they had emptied. He found a lot of pictures from some daguerian gallery. The three he arrested and put in jail. It is high time the House of Refuge was in operation, as the jail is no place for such offenders.

THEATRE.—Miss Mary Provost had another very fine house last night, to witness and enjoy her rendition of the character of Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons. To render this character so as to be enjoyable to an experienced audience requires super-excellence in the actress, and to give it so as to enchain the audience argues a degree of ability very seldom possessed. Miss Provost's Pauline was a very charming personification, true to the author's conception, true to nature, full of beauty and excellence.

This evening she will take a benefit. The bill she offers is a very fine one: The Conspiracy, or a Wife's Trials, a Parisian sensation drama, in which she will appear as Lucie D'Arville—and the afterpiece of Jenny Lind.

THE BLACK BRIGADE.—The Provost Guard had an abundance of work to do yesterday, in gathering up the negroes to work on the intrenchments. We learn that they picked up seven hundred and marched them off to their labors. Last night two hundred of them, believed to be runaway negroes, were looked up in the quarters at the corner of Fifth and Green, the old military Prison, and the remainder, five hundred, were permitted to go to their homes for the night, to report themselves on duty again this morning.

ENGLAND IS putting forth gigantic efforts to build and equip her new navy of iron-clads. The rapid strides of the French and the remarkable combats of iron vessels in American waters have stirred the admiralty from its sloth, and infused new vigor into the naval government. Our last foreign advice brings intelligence of the trial trip of the Black Prince, and intimations of new movements in the British dockyards, with the commencement of new experiments with iron plates, and new programmes for the construction of formidable ships.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident happened last evening, to the train coming in from Elizabethtown, by which several persons were severely injured, but no lives were lost. When about three miles out from the city, two or three of the cars in the middle of the train were in some unaccountable manner crushed or badly broken, and many of the passengers in those cars were severely hurt, though we believe none of them dangerously. We did not learn any names.

IN some mysterious manner the Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent learns that the wound of Major General B. R. Lee is more serious than was at first supposed, both hands having been badly lacerated, so that they are useless to him now. He was sitting on horseback, reading both hands on the pomel of his saddle, when a bullet passed partially through both of them. He is represented as having both hands well bandaged up, and greatly worried at not being able to manipulate his pen and pencil.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—Within the past week cotton has advanced fully eight cents per pound. The last improvement, caused by the Norwegian's advice on Monday of last week, was two and three cents, the quotations in New York for middling upland being fifty-six cents. This is the highest price which has been paid at any time within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

LADIES are turning out the best rifle-shots. At a recent rifle match in England, six women of high social position were competitors for the "Bright Eye Sweepstakes," by invitation of Lord Fielding and the officers of the Flintshire battalion. A Mrs. Ashwin made a center shot and carried off the prize.

THE MECHANICS AND ENGINEERS of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, turned out in their strength, yesterday, to work upon the intrenchments, near the city. They will be there again to-day, and call upon all members of the company to join them, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Captain, JOHN F. DUNN.

A RETURN.—"Malakoff," writing from Paris to the New York Times, hints that the saute ardente between France and England is likely to be ruptured, on account of the antagonistic attitude of England in Italy and at Constantinople.

Local Notices.

AMONG THE thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Nashville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command there, and we shall not believe to the contrary till we have a certainty on which to build.

But, surrendered or not, there is no necessity for any alarm—anxiety we cannot feel feeling, but nothing like alarm.

LATER.—It will be seen by dispatches from Indianapolis, that Adjutant E. Slawson, of the 17th Indiana Regiment, who escaped from Munfordville immediately after the surrender, has arrived in that city, and we presume there is no longer any doubt that the rebels did capture the garrison.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—We learn from private watchman E. D. Wyatt, that a gang of ten or twelve boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years, have a rendezvous on Third street, between Main and the river, in the rear of some of the stores, where they seem to sleep. He found ten of the gang last night, but by the time he had climbed a fence, they had all but three, escaped over another fence. They had two or three bottles of whisky, one of which they had emptied. He found a lot of pictures from some daguerian gallery. The three he arrested and put in jail. It is high time the House of Refuge was in operation, as the jail is no place for such offenders.

THEATRE.—Miss Mary Provost had another very fine house last night, to witness and enjoy her rendition of the character of Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons. To render this character so as to be enjoyable to an experienced audience requires super-excellence in the actress, and to give it so as to enchain the audience argues a degree of ability very seldom possessed. Miss Provost's Pauline was a very charming personification, true to the author's conception, true to nature, full of beauty and excellence.

This evening she will take a benefit. The bill she offers is a very fine one: The Conspiracy, or a Wife's Trials, a Parisian sensation drama, in which she will appear as Lucie D'Arville—and the afterpiece of Jenny Lind.

THE BLACK BRIGADE.—The Provost Guard had an abundance of work to do yesterday, in gathering up the negroes to work on the intrenchments. We learn that they picked up seven hundred and marched them off to their labors. Last night two hundred of them, believed to be runaway negroes, were looked up in the quarters at the corner of Fifth and Green, the old military Prison, and the remainder, five hundred, were permitted to go to their homes for the night, to report themselves on duty again this morning.

ENGLAND IS putting forth gigantic efforts to build and equip her new navy of iron-clads. The rapid strides of the French and the remarkable combats of iron vessels in American waters have stirred the admiralty from its sloth, and infused new vigor into the naval government. Our last foreign advice brings intelligence of the trial trip of the Black Prince, and intimations of new movements in the British dockyards, with the commencement of new experiments with iron plates, and new programmes for the construction of formidable ships.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident happened last evening, to the train coming in from Elizabethtown, by which several persons were severely injured, but no lives were lost. When about three miles out from the city, two or three of the cars in the middle of the train were in some unaccountable manner crushed or badly broken, and many of the passengers in those cars were severely hurt, though we believe none of them dangerously. We did not learn any names.

IN some mysterious manner the Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent learns that the wound of Major General B. R. Lee is more serious than was at first supposed, both hands having been badly lacerated, so that they are useless to him now. He was sitting on horseback, reading both hands on the pomel of his saddle, when a bullet passed partially through both of them. He is represented as having both hands well bandaged up, and greatly worried at not being able to manipulate his pen and pencil.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—Within the past week cotton has advanced fully eight cents per pound. The last improvement, caused by the Norwegian's advice on Monday of last week, was two and three cents, the quotations in New York for middling upland being fifty-six cents. This is the highest price which has been paid at any time within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

LADIES are turning out the best rifle-shots. At a recent rifle match in England, six women of high social position were competitors for the "Bright Eye Sweepstakes," by invitation of Lord Fielding and the officers of the Flintshire battalion. A Mrs. Ashwin made a center shot and carried off the prize.

THE MECHANICS AND ENGINEERS of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, turned out in their strength, yesterday, to work upon the intrenchments, near the city. They will be there again to-day, and call upon all members of the company to join them, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Captain, JOHN F. DUNN.

A RETURN.—"Malakoff," writing from Paris to the New York Times, hints that the saute ardente between France and England is likely to be ruptured, on account of the antagonistic attitude of England in Italy and at Constantinople.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AMONG THE thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Nashville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command there, and we shall not believe to the contrary till we have a certainty on which to build.

But, surrendered or not, there is no necessity for any alarm—anxiety we cannot feel feeling, but nothing like alarm.

LATER.—It will be seen by dispatches from Indianapolis, that Adjutant E. Slawson, of the 17th Indiana Regiment, who escaped from Munfordville immediately after the surrender, has arrived in that city, and we presume there is no longer any doubt that the rebels did capture the garrison.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—We learn from private watchman E. D. Wyatt, that a gang of ten or twelve boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years, have a rendezvous on Third street, between Main and the river, in the rear of some of the stores, where they seem to sleep. He found ten of the gang last night, but by the time he had climbed a fence, they had all but three, escaped over another fence. They had two or three bottles of whisky, one of which they had emptied. He found a lot of pictures from some daguerian gallery. The three he arrested and put in jail. It is high time the House of Refuge was in operation, as the jail is no place for such offenders.

THEATRE.—Miss Mary Provost had another very fine house last night, to witness and enjoy her rendition of the character of Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons. To render this character so as to be enjoyable to an experienced audience requires super-excellence in the actress, and to give it so as to enchain the audience argues a degree of ability very seldom possessed. Miss Provost's Pauline was a very charming personification, true to the author's conception, true to nature, full of beauty and excellence.

This evening she will take a benefit. The bill she offers is a very fine one: The Conspiracy, or a Wife's Trials, a Parisian sensation drama, in which she will appear as Lucie D'Arville—and the afterpiece of Jenny Lind.

THE BLACK BRIGADE.—The Provost Guard had an abundance of work to do yesterday, in gathering up the negroes to work on the intrenchments. We learn that they picked up seven hundred and marched them off to their labors. Last night two hundred of them, believed to be runaway negroes, were looked up in the quarters at the corner of Fifth and Green, the old military Prison, and the remainder, five hundred, were permitted to go to their homes for the night, to report themselves on duty again this morning.

ENGLAND IS putting forth gigantic efforts to build and equip her new navy of iron-clads. The rapid strides of the French and the remarkable combats of iron vessels in American waters have stirred the admiralty from its sloth, and infused new vigor into the naval government. Our last foreign advice brings intelligence of the trial trip of the Black Prince, and intimations of new movements in the British dockyards, with the commencement of new experiments with iron plates, and new programmes for the construction of formidable ships.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident happened last evening, to the train coming in from Elizabethtown, by which several persons were severely injured, but no lives were lost. When about three miles out from the city, two or three of the cars in the middle of the train were in some unaccountable manner crushed or badly broken, and many of the passengers in those cars were severely hurt, though we believe none of them dangerously. We did not learn any names.

IN some mysterious manner the Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent learns that the wound of Major General B. R. Lee is more serious than was at first supposed, both hands having been badly lacerated, so that they are useless to him now. He was sitting on horseback, reading both hands on the pomel of his saddle, when a bullet passed partially through both of them. He is represented as having both hands well bandaged up, and greatly worried at not being able to manipulate his pen and pencil.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—Within the past week cotton has advanced fully eight cents per pound. The last improvement, caused by the Norwegian's advice on Monday of last week, was two and three cents, the quotations in New York for middling upland being fifty-six cents. This is the highest price which has been paid at any time within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

LADIES are turning out the best rifle-shots. At a recent rifle match in England, six women of high social position were competitors for the "Bright Eye Sweepstakes," by invitation of Lord Fielding and the officers of the Flintshire battalion. A Mrs. Ashwin made a center shot and carried off the prize.

THE MECHANICS AND ENGINEERS of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, turned out in their strength, yesterday, to work upon the intrenchments, near the city. They will be there again to-day, and call upon all members of the company to join them, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Captain, JOHN F. DUNN.

A RETURN.—"Malakoff," writing from Paris to the New York Times, hints that the saute ardente between France and England is likely to be ruptured, on account of the antagonistic attitude of England in Italy and at Constantinople.

Butlers' Supplies.

AMONG THE thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Nashville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command there, and we shall not believe to the contrary till we have a certainty on which to build.

But, surrendered or not, there is no necessity for any alarm—anxiety we cannot feel feeling, but nothing like alarm.

LATER.—It will be seen by dispatches from Indianapolis, that Adjutant E. Slawson, of the 17th Indiana Regiment, who escaped from Munfordville immediately after the surrender, has arrived in that city, and we presume there is no longer any doubt that the rebels did capture the garrison.

JUVENILE THIEVES.—We learn from private watchman E. D. Wyatt, that a gang of ten or twelve boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years, have a rendezvous on Third street, between Main and the river, in the rear of some of the stores, where they seem to sleep. He found ten of the gang last night, but by the time he had climbed a fence, they had all but three, escaped over another fence. They had two or three bottles of whisky, one of which they had emptied. He found a lot of pictures from some daguerian gallery. The three he arrested and put in jail. It is high time the House of Refuge was in operation, as the jail is no place for such offenders.

THEATRE.—Miss Mary Provost had another very fine house last night, to witness and enjoy her rendition of the character of Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons. To render this character so as to be enjoyable to an experienced audience requires super-excellence in the actress, and to give it so as to enchain the audience argues a degree of ability very seldom possessed. Miss Provost's Pauline was a very charming personification, true to the author's conception, true to nature, full of beauty and excellence.

This evening she will take a benefit. The bill she offers is a very fine one: The Conspiracy, or a Wife's Trials, a Parisian sensation drama, in which she will appear as Lucie D'Arville—and the afterpiece of Jenny Lind.

THE BLACK BRIGADE.—The Provost Guard had an abundance of work to do yesterday, in gathering up the negroes to work on the intrenchments. We learn that they picked up seven hundred and marched them off to their labors. Last night two hundred of them, believed to be runaway negroes, were looked up in the quarters at the corner of Fifth and Green, the old military Prison, and the remainder, five hundred, were permitted to go to their homes for the night, to report themselves on duty again this morning.

ENGLAND IS putting forth gigantic efforts to build and equip her new navy of iron-clads. The rapid strides of the French and the remarkable combats of iron vessels in American waters have stirred the admiralty from its sloth, and infused new vigor into the naval government. Our last foreign advice brings intelligence of the trial trip of the Black Prince, and intimations of new movements in the British dockyards, with the commencement of new experiments with iron plates, and new programmes for the construction of formidable ships.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident happened last evening, to the train coming in from Elizabethtown, by which several persons were severely injured, but no lives were lost. When about three miles out from the city, two or three of the cars in the middle of the train were in some unaccountable manner crushed or badly broken, and many of the passengers in those cars were severely hurt, though we believe none of them dangerously. We did not learn any names.

IN some mysterious manner the Philadelphia Inquirer's correspondent learns that the wound of Major General B. R. Lee is more serious than was at first supposed, both hands having been badly lacerated, so that they are useless to him now. He was sitting on horseback, reading both hands on the pomel of his saddle, when a bullet passed partially through both of them. He is represented as having both hands well bandaged up, and greatly worried at not being able to manipulate his pen and pencil.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—Within the past week cotton has advanced fully eight cents per pound. The last improvement, caused by the Norwegian's advice on Monday of last week, was two and three cents, the quotations in New York for middling upland being fifty-six cents. This is the highest price which has been paid at any time within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

LADIES are turning out the best rifle-shots. At a recent rifle match in England, six women of high social position were competitors for the "Bright Eye Sweepstakes," by invitation of Lord Fielding and the officers of the Flintshire battalion. A Mrs. Ashwin made a center shot and carried off the prize.

THE MECHANICS AND ENGINEERS of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, turned out in their strength, yesterday, to work upon the intrenchments, near the city. They will be there again to-day, and call upon all members of the company to join them, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Captain, JOHN F. DUNN.

A RETURN.—"Malakoff," writing from Paris to the New York Times, hints that the saute ardente between France and England is likely to be ruptured, on account of the antagonistic attitude of England in Italy and at Constantinople.

Butlers' Supplies.

AMONG THE thousands of soldiers and "reliable" statements, it is absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like a sensible or true statement of the condition of affairs at Nashville. We stated in yesterday's Evening News, on "the best authority," that Col. Wilder had not surrendered. News that seemed equally reliable was received last night that the surrender had been made as we announced yesterday morning.

But we put no faith in this last report—do not believe it. Nearly forty-eight hours have elapsed since the event, if it did occur as stated. In that time there has been abundant opportunity for receiving correct information with all the particulars; not only that, but there has been plenty of time for Col. Wilder and his command to have arrived here under parole. Or if not paroled, there has been abundant opportunity for the news to be sent down to Bowlinggreen and across the country forty miles to Owensboro and Evansville, and thence by telegraph.

There is something mysterious in the very impossibility of learning anything relating to this matter, or to Buell's whereabouts and movements, which satisfies us that Col. Wilder is still in command

